Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Tuesday, May 28, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Your lifestyle is quite suited to the service you are engaged in. Some of these messages are inspired by your life; they build on facts punctuating the course of the days. In broad outline and with regard to spirituality, you are all following the same way. What we tell you is meant for all, who, sooner or later, will go through the same situations. Each age brings different joys and sorrows, but the spiritual heart, while seeking its way, is confronted with the same obstacles that try to distract it from a straight line in which it is engaged. These inevitable meanders are enlightening when they are overcome with panache. A life without any obstacle would be monotonous. The human being develops with the passing days, facing up to everything that arises, the good and less good. He must know it all; it is in the nature of things. Certain lives are more preserved than others; each one of them is designed according to a precise plan which is in answer to the karmic requirements. From this perspective, it is good to accept with gratitude all the aspects of an existence which is likely to build a higher and increasingly more inspired destiny."
