Sunday, June 2, 2002 - 8:00 AM

My dear daughter,

"We have reached a delicate point where, indeed, my son must express his intention to access these messages. A mediator would have been welcome, but for the time being this doesn't seem feasible. We come to the end of this long cycle and the quantity of messages commands that we confine ourselves to what exists. They are more than enough, in terms of meeting our abhyasis' needs. All aspects of spiritual life are addressed therein, in a very simple and comprehensible manner. Regular reading would greatly help them in their practice.

"It would be necessary to unravel the situation and to make sure that the dialogue between you is reopened. That would make us so happy. Your heart should be receptive to our expectations; you retain the key that can facilitate an opening as far as those messages are concerned. See what you can do to launch the process; we will help you in this respect."

Babuji