Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

ome words, some acts do not fit in any more with a high spiritual state. They are not compatible with a subtle vibratory state. The new being which is taking shape in you has different objectives. Its personality has evolved, it has become refined, and its views are broader, more open to the suffering world that surrounds it. It is less focused on its problems. It puts their importance in perspective. By understanding the goal of its incarnation, it more easily overcomes the dramas arising in its life. It knows that they are inevitable; that no being escapes them and that the divine laws are made like that. It thanks God for opening its mind to wisdom; its heart is grateful. It advances reassured, having understood why its life must follow this way rather than another that is less appropriate to what it must live and learn. By choosing a Master, it takes a great step ahead. The thorns on the path seem less frightening to it. It surrenders, confident in its destiny, present and future.

"God is Great, so it thinks: my Guide knows what he does; it remains for me to carry on, on my road, as serenely as possible."
