Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Tuesday, June 25, 2002 - 8:00 a.m.

Today is a beautiful day, my child. A new hope is rising in you; it is growing and is asserting itself. Your heart is changing, and it appreciates its states. You feel lighter in this moment when things that matter are only those provided by sadhana. You feel yourself vibrating differently; all your body sings its joy. You praise God, intensely. You should therefore let this unalloyed joy grow in you and make sure that it remains; it is a grace being bestowed on you. Under its effects, your heart is polished in a harmonious way. Make the most of this special day; make sure that you are not troubled by anything. Leave aside the small worries, the biggest ones will be resolved by themselves. Let yourself be lulled by this moving wave, which sends you into transports of joy. In this moment, you are lifted up by a very special impulse of faith. Let your heart sing love; all our aspirants must learn how to do so, if they don't do it already. This dimension is strongly lacking in many of them. They don't know how to cultivate this rare flower whose scent is intoxicating.

"May your heart – throughout the day – benefit from this refreshing and light breeze. Love, love us endlessly, my child."
