Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Friday, June 28, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Love between Master and disciple is made of confidence and harmony. It all must be simple to support the best relationship. This love is strengthened with time. It can achieve great things. It opens secret doors, difficult to go through. It governs the divine game; nothing can be built without it. As you can see, you are privileged since this concept developed in you quite naturally. Love is the thread of all great and definite things that develop in this world and elsewhere alike. This energy outlives all disasters inherent in the great cosmic movements necessary to the established order. This can seem paradoxical, but that is the way it goes: construction and destruction balance each other in this special and sacred geometry. The masses must be maintained in a constant stream leading necessarily to evolutionary phases. All this work is structured beyond your understanding, but that does not matter to you, since it does not interfere in your own evolution."
