Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Wednesday, July 3, 2002 - 8:00 a.m.

Even if they don't have any special gifts, each one of our aspirants, quite regular in sadhana, can feel us in their hearts. It is enough to call us very sincerely, selflessly, for us to be listening in. Impulses of love cause these situations, which support the openness of the heart the way we conceive it in our way. Our rituals and our songs are performed in silence and in meditation, supporting the expansion of the soul. Interiorisation makes them take on all their might. There is no room for idolatry in our gatherings. By venerating one's Master with a quiet presence on special occasions, you show to him your gratitude and love. Is there anything more beautiful than this imposing evidence, whereby our abhyasis come from afar to see their Master, and to show him the place he holds in their spiritual life? To express one's love is a healthy and spontaneous action, not orchestrated for a monetary profit; it is about spiritual benefits, freely given and received."
