Let joy suffuse your heart on this day. You cannot change anything in the outside world. You have enough reasons to keep inside you some sunny spaces.

"Many souls are in search and many others will feel 'the call': an immense need to be in union with the Creator. You will enter a phase of turbulences on the material level; on the other hand the spiritual need will be higher. Prepare yourself for the two aspects of life on the Earth. All is not lost when the soul is on the alert. No matter what happens, remain trustful in your destiny."
