Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, April 19, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Not all will be liberated during the celebration, as rumour has it. But on the whole, many abhyasis will be happy insofar as they are aware of their progress, which is not the case with everyone. This type of perception involves a very good reading of one's condition. Few manage to do it correctly.

That is not a handicap. You were never worried about your level and the work got done.

Only the result matters. Continue your journey with, on this day, my special blessings.
