Wednesday, August 14, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Dear daughter, we appreciate your love for our Mission, as well as for its Masters. This day is special, it is good to remember; these moments unite our associates of the same spirit in a state of grace. Our Mission has taken off, with a new boom that will lead it to its higher place, already all set. Remember that your divine guide, Babuji, as you call him, is the greatest of us all. His true place, in the eyes of men, will be given to him in the future when his very special greatness will be recognised. On this day, particularly, let's include my dear son in this remembrance of the past, which is a milestone on the path of our Mission.

"We do not want to abuse your strength; we bless you all, you who keep in mind the memory of this day."
