Tuesday, August 20, 2002 - 10:00 a.m. ake sure you don't repress your heart; let it go on in its total expansion, and love infinitely. The more you advance in this way, the stronger the attraction in you. Let this joy remain in your soul and let it lead you further and further! Everything else around you will lose its importance. You will go, more and more, to the main thing without being constantly caught up in daily worries. Love us; we return it to you, my daughter."

Babuji