Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Wednesday, August 28, 2002 - 8:00 a.m.

Glorify divine love, my child; many people fail to do so. They fight in a world of violence and atrocities of all sorts, blinded by wrong values and neglecting what should be the driving force of their life. Evil is extending; respect for others is lost, as well as for the sense of family. The escalation of current evils in a society on the road to perdition is likely to come to an end suddenly. Man will have to find a way of life in conformity with the divine laws. They will be essential to him, in their own way, when time comes. Life on this Earth resembles that of an anthill unsettled by a wind of madness, without the individuals even realising it. Speaking about love seems inappropriate and obsolete, [but] love dedicated to God is not. It is the driving force of this world and its primary energy. The sages know it and sense it; they maintain it in their hearts. They can cherish it; it is the only true richness in this world. These kinds of comments would make a large majority of individuals laugh, but the truth will unfold one day to their amazed eyes, and their lives will have to utterly change in order to evolve.

"Our way is not in keeping with the style of the day for the majority of people of today. Happy are those who have understood where the truth is, and who are striving accordingly, well determined to escape this sprawling world deprived of moral standards. They aspire to be released from it definitively before continuing in another direction."
