Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

My dear daughter, accept what the divine gardener is doing for you and in you. Going towards perfection entails accepting sacrifices; complaining delays the process. Total surrender makes it possible to advance serenely. Think of your heart as a garden offered to the Prince of lights, who oversees its maintenance. He looks, modifies, prunes and straightens up here and there with admiration. The result obtained is satisfactory, the progress is correct. As for the garden, it complains; it does not agree to so much suffering to become a masterpiece. Does it [your heart] complain to receive such care? We do not think so; it is grateful to have been selected and to advance on the way to perfection with the desired assistance. Your heart knows all that, my child. We also know, we who see deeply into people's hearts, what it truly aspires to better than the people themselves. The human and spiritual natures are not always in agreement on this aspect. A long and difficult walk can tire the most motivated followers. We guide the souls for their good, in accordance with their profound aspiration, without going beyond. We remain within the realms of possibility and everything is accomplished according to divine intentions. Keep heart, we bless you."
