Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Monday, September 9, 2002 - 8:30 a.m.

Your mind is inattentive; you are not going through the right door leading to this sanctuary where you can find us. Are you tired of plunging into this vibration in which your heart delights? We do not think so. Some moments are more favourable than others for this communion, where a profound meditation yields its effects. Thoughts hinder this diving into oneself for a while, before being overcome. To insulate oneself entails a ritual related to the place, steadfastness and mental preparation associated with it. These moments are precious for you; prepare them carefully. They are your spiritual breathing, that which propels you into another universe where the heart has all its prerogatives. You need these moments of mystical union where, in a breath's moment, you can approach eternity. The divine energy refreshes your soul, which then calms down and identifies itself with it.

"Do not neglect these special rendezvous, which punctuate your spiritual life. They are its driving force, the best one, since they make you catch a glimpse of another world where beauty can manifest itself freely, and embellish your heart with all the graces. May meditation have a prime place in your life, and harmoniously mark your process under the protection of your Masters!"
