Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Wednesday, September 11, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Human beings seek outside themselves what they have inside, but all do not know it. In this eternal pursuit of happiness, they often experience only dissatisfaction and disappointments of all sorts, but they persist in the hope of experiencing happiness and love, an extraordinary love, great and beautiful, which cannot, on any account, falter and especially be taken away from them. Man's dream and reality are somewhat different. Nothing is acquired definitively; this has to be borne well in mind. All sorts of attachments generate disappointment, since they are not eternal. What allows man to face up to all these fluctuations in feelings, and to what makes life on this Earth, is precisely what is in man's heart – which is of divine essence, and thus immutable. He comes and drinks from there more and more, when he has understood the principle of it. May this truth become obvious to all men! They will continue to experience tests of all sorts, which are the lot of mankind, but they will no longer be so helpless and disoriented in the face of the precariousness of life, with all its ensuing suffering. Set out to make this special love grow within you; it will not disappoint you. It will be your recourse in all circumstances and will strengthen you, both in situations of joy and sorrow."
