Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Friday, September 20, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Our comments are not dictated with an aim of material profit; such is not the context we are in. Our readers will be sufficiently motivated to be eager to read us, beyond any system preaching profitability. The interest these messages will be able to arouse will lie on another level. More and more, a strong call for the Divine will manifest itself in their hearts. They will seek possible openness, and reading will remain a means of discovering what they have a presentiment of. Our way will meet this need and many souls will join it, hopeful that they will advance eventually towards light, which they call for intensely. Souls attract each other and follow the same way, when they are similar. Indeed, there are families of souls, which look for each other and stimulate each other, going in the same direction. The need is pressing and urges them to emerge from the miasmas of this world. They call the Master intended for them, who will guide them into an evolutionary path. Was it not said that 'when the student is ready, the master appears'? It is a reality. Thus are the stages reached, leading to a higher level of realisation.

"The way is long and difficult; it deserves all desired attention. Don't waste your opportunities of travelling it in the best condition. You have the opportunity of making a good choice. Don't miss it; it may not come back again. Be vigilant and make sure you appreciate what is offered to you. It is your heart, and only the heart, that must guide you in this business."
