Friday, April 23, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

Live from day to day. The future may not be as gloomy as you see it. You have always stood firm; we are here to support you. Some means will actually need to be found to relieve you. You should not be so anxious. Your life is not over. You still have some way to go; you will eventually have some respite. You are still willing to serve us; therefore, don't lose heart.

"The good thing in big celebrations is that they motivate our members; they are stimulated by the ongoing preparatory work. This year in particular, people's minds are becoming more refined. They are more receptive. Many of them can sense that 'something' is happening; this is good progress. We are happy to see them in this state of receptivity. We are often torn between the desire to punish or bless. The Westerners are special; we cannot expect them to react like Easterners. By and large, there is progress."

Babuji