Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Isn't my son's soul of great beauty? Is there any better place where he can show it than in these messages? He opens up unreservedly in these accumulating writings that reveal at the same time, his greatness and his humility. It has taken much time to meet the conditions conducive to this achievement that allows you to meet again. Your souls are of the same nature, proud and passionate, entirely focused on the goal they have set for themselves. A combat of this kind cannot be led without these two qualities. He needed an ear like yours – capable of perceiving what few humans can hear – to receive the calls and the cries of such a fervent heart. Noble souls will delight in these songs, inspired by an extraordinary love that is being consolidated and strengthened through your exchange of refrains. His dimension as a spiritual Master will go down in history; it will be recorded in the annals of the Mission. This fighter – sharp-minded and endowed with qualities characteristic of great men and builders – is fervently applying himself to it. We have every good reason to be delighted: our way is following its path under the best auspices. Thanks to these messages, he shows another facet of his personality, which is special in every respect."
