Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Friday, October 18, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Open your heart to the world, as if you were opening a window to let things from outside come in towards you. Dispense your love, offer it generously by addressing it to the faceless multitude; thus you will not be disappointed. Give limitlessly; the reserves in this field are inexhaustible. Love, which you vow to God, can be addressed to all since He dwells in each one of His creatures, no matter whether they are aware of it or not. You should include in this love the whole of creation; it is on the go, in the process of becoming, evolving according to the established laws – very slowly judging from this world's perspective. These concepts are perceived differently on other planes of existence, which man cannot decode, being caught in a human approach to these phenomena.

'The laws of physics are valid here below, adapted to the system; they lose their values when they are considered from an elsewhere not governed by these laws. We will not insist any longer; our remarks cannot enlighten you, as we cannot go any further into the details of the universal principles governing the worlds. A world resides in each one of you; try to manage it with as much lucidity as possible, while remaining trustful in your destiny. While opening yourself to the spiritual process, you have embarked on the way that will lead you towards knowledge, the only one capable of accompanying you and opening the doors of the unknown to you."
