Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Sunday, October 27, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Make the most of this day when all is silent around you and therefore gives you the opportunity of greater meditation. The external noises are less aggressive. You are calm, serene, to adore your God in all quietude. The world that surrounds you is kept at a distance; your soul can let its scents waft out in peace. There is something good in this seventh day of the week; it makes it possible for one's day to be organised according to a different pace. Take all the necessary time to be listening to your Masters who keep working for the good of humanity. This moment of rest and peace allows faithful hearts to go to more devotion. It is so good – don't you agree – to feel your heart thus dilate with happiness, completely surrendered to the love that subjugates it! Man needs these moments of peace when he can find himself in the face of his true nature, that which is immutable.

"Rejuvenate yourself, my daughter, on this Sunday and assert your faith. It is your driving force, that which will not die, since it is given to you by this Almighty God who created you. Its energy is sublime and powerful, subtle and cannot be defined by the heart of man who feeds on it. When he has tasted this food, he cannot do without it any more. He becomes famished and more and more impatient to relish it. He seeks with eagerness the best way, that which will enable him to be united with Him, until the end of time."
