Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Sunday, November 3, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Plunge into yourself; give this breathing to your soul that is waiting for this moment. It is thirsty for the Divine; don't you feel this need, which you can easily satisfy? Don't neglect it; nothing else deserves your attention so much. Its aspiration is so great; devote more time to it. You need so little of it to come and join Him and to unite with Him, inside it; that's all He expects of His creature.

"He knows how to fulfil the fervent souls that call Him, as yours is used to doing.

"Create harmony in yourself, my child, quench your thirst at the divine source as much as necessary. Our exhortations, you know them, for having heard them so often. Therefore enjoy it. After this bath of purity you will feel your heart, more peaceful and joyful, setting out again cheerfully to conquer its freedom. Your path is fraught with thorns; only the exquisite scents being spread inside you by the divine graces make you advance with this steadfastness and this eagerness to continue, at all costs, towards the light that you foresee at the end of the road.

"You only dream of it, of a complete fusion where you would be immersed in it, completely carried, merged in this vastness where nothing else exists any more but bliss – that dispels qualms. That's how you imagine the culmination of this climbing towards God; each one has his own dream. Try to establish inside you, as of now, a climate of unalterable peace and harmony in the face of the vagaries of this life, and continue your search serenely. Be blessed, my child."
