Wednesday, November 6, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

ou are not the only one who finds that time passes slowly on this Earth. Think of your Master, who is also draining himself of strength to do that which he came for, here below. Only love must guide your steps. Make sure that it develops more and more in you. Love us without moderation; you will never go too far in this field. Your Master needs love, you know this; his higher spirituality calls for it intensely as an essential food for his life. You can largely contribute to it; your relationship having evolved towards what a Master-to-disciple relationship must be, with all its contents in terms of close and deeply spiritualised ties. You have arrived where you did not think you could, i.e. to love him so much. You fulfil our wishes, my daughter. At this stage, your search can continue in the best of conditions. You know the importance of the living Master; we will not revert to the many arguments already set out here on that subject. You should be quite aware that you have entered a new phase of your evolution. Follow your Master with utmost confidence; you have made a final choice in this respect. It is enough to comply with the requirements of the level that you wish to reach, and to love infinitely. On this point, you have no difficulty, your heart is ideally receptive and it can give profusely. Therefore, remain serene, won't you? And be patient to go on until the end of the contract."

Babuji