Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Monday, December 9, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

We have told you enough that it is efforts that count and which, with time, tip the scales towards what is right and good. We work in a world that seeks its truth, and which, consciously or not, longs for perfection. Many people are still very far from it, but an elite is emerging and growing on all the continents, which gives hope of a more rejoicing future. Our method will naturally become essential with time. Is there anything simpler, more accessible than its practice? It reveals hidden aspirations, and stimulates the spiritual process, which gradually takes its place in the life of our aspirants. Cleaning is done little by little, according to the aptitude of each one, to leave room for a true elevation of the soul. In the beginning, all this simplicity can seem disconcerting: no ritual, no song, no act of faith and public statement! The work is done in the secrecy of the hearts. The abhyasi can rely only on his trust in our system and not on appearances that could be deceptive. We do not make any passionately emotional pronouncements to praise loud and clear the interest of our method. We underline its merits; it is up to each one to try. Our brothers and sisters follow us with complete freedom, without coercion or strict commitment. Souls that are ready are offered a means of evolving; we welcome them with love and compassion."
