Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Sunday, December 22, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Your heart keeps refining. It is no longer its own; it vibrates in the light, happy and free to love as it pleases. It only aspires to that, to cut itself off from Earthly circumstances, and to exist with the sole aim of being in our wake. It earned its autonomy in utmost surrender, which can seem paradoxical, but thus is divine love codified. Free to love ad infinitum, it is granted a wide range trajectory. It remains for it to conquer big spaces where it will not be lost, since it is guided by its star. It is at the beginning of its search, compared to the vastness of the worlds being offered to it. This step, taken on the Earth, is only an indication of absolute bliss. It advances confidently, wishing nothing but to be loved and, especially, to be able to love unrestrainedly. These beginnings are promising; having learned simplicity in detachment, the way widens and opens up prospects. Love can be truly expressed only by dint of this. The heart cannot be overburdened with complicated formulas meant to lure one's mind. Here, such is not our context; it is all clear and detailed. To be born again to its true life, it must come forward plain and naked like a newborn child. Only its true nature allows it to be recognised."
