Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Wednesday, January 1, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Do not let yourself be affected by the mood of your circle; remain well centred on your line of heart, that which goes straight and imperturbably. As you know, humans are changeable and sometimes disappointing; you cannot change anything about that. Bless them secretly and move on to something else. You are entering a new year; it depends on you to make it constructive, no matter what happens in the world and in the aspects concerning you. What matters is that you should not depart from what enlivens your days, on the spiritual level. Your steadfastness in effort and in repeated exercises, and your faithfulness towards us, give substance to a life centred on this beautiful and noble conquest which will not disappoint you. The beauty of a heart clears its way; here, no force is necessary, love alone allows everything to be obtained.

"In this moment, it bathes in bliss, leaving the miasmas of this world far behind. Take advantage of this day to honour particularly the Immutable, the sublime emanation of the Divine which touches with Its grace a soul which calls it.

"Rest assured, my child, one day, when the time has come, you will leave this vale of tears and your life will continue elsewhere, in more serene places, more in line with the purity you are longing for.

"Devote yourself completely to love, give it your best; make sure that your every breath becomes imbued with it. When it conquers a heart, it does not leave it any more and it conquers it in its inner depths. Be happy for having found your way. Be blessed, we love you. Our love to you all who follow us faithfully."
