Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Saturday, January 4, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Life did not spare you and yet you managed to keep the heart of a child. It is a sign of strength and not weakness to be able to surrender to the power of the celestial Father, with humility and joy – this mystical joy which transports the soul [into rapture] and raises it towards this unique and elusive beauty.

"The latter remains in the hearts, immutable, and cannot be affected by the vagaries of life. Worldly values fluctuate, whatever their nature; only those developing outside the material context are spared.

"You, our brothers and sisters, who have understood where the truth lies as regards all these concepts and who trust us to guide you out of the futile aspects of your Earthly existence, you are advancing on the way to wisdom and you will not be disappointed; your efforts will be rewarded in proportion to your commitment.

"When you came towards us, you had already understood that spiritual values were to be developed inside you; you were longing to progress with a method suited to you, not too constraining and at the same time effective, non-dogmatic, and which preserves your freedom of thought. The word 'sect' in your countries has taken on a pejorative connotation; unfortunate confusion is made, without discernment, as per an attitude caused by obscure forces.

"Let us not dwell on that; you are not children any more and you have enough discernment to tell what is good for you. You should persevere in the way you chose; we help you. One day, when the time of assessment has come and light has dawned inside you about your assets, you will know that your choice was judicious. Be confident and blessed."
