Tuesday, April 27, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

The Medium: "Babuji, please let me not go to the hospital on Friday."

Time, space, place, do not matter. Is it so important to be at home on April 30th? Is it not enough to be with me? We will make sure that you are not the saddest abhyasi. Everything is relative, my child. Don't you believe any more in my omnipresence? So, the place where you will be does not matter! Detach yourself from all these eventualities. Only that which is good for your soul matters, it is up to us to appreciate. Our objective is to remove you from your chains; all the remainder is mere adventures. We are not insensitive to what you are enduring, but we are determined to do our best for you."

Babuji