Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Monday, January 27, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

In all circumstances, you have the recourse of faith; it is a power granted to you and which many human beings do not have. Can you imagine how your life would have been without this grace? Your path would be more painful, without the prospect of a continuation beyond what is called death. The physical body itself does not die in the way that men understand it; it changes vibrationally to exist in another way, just like anything that lives and moves in this world. The essence of the being carries on its road, towards another phase of its evolution.

"These various stages are necessary for it; they strengthen it and allow it to be refined.

"Whatever the process, it is enlightening and necessary. Nothing is left to chance in this long epic, which leads it towards the ultimate goal after many wanderings making it go through all possible tests.

"The soul will come out purified, capable of undertaking another journey, but it is too early to speak about this one. The opportunities of evolution are infinite; the universe is boundless and cannot be figured out by man at his present stage of evolution. What is important is for him to make a success of his incarnation in this world, which is not easy. Many obstacles emerge in this long process; all are not likely to be enlightened, to find a way corresponding to the aspirations of their soul. Several lives are sometimes necessary to succeed in this field. As far as you are concerned, all is well. You have taken steps. It remains for you to persevere, with our help."
