Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Friday, March 14, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Life is a long journey fraught with difficult steps. Strong souls put up with it as they keep an unwavering faith, amidst ordeals. For many people, it is about faith in life and in themselves, without knowing exactly the source of their conviction. Our candidates are among all those who know the source of this inner force that urges them to act during the dark moments of their lives. The awakening has taken place in them; they are on the path, trying to approach this presence which manifests itself more and more and which attracts them. They do not search for it outside any more, having understood that the seat of this divine power was in their own heart, this spiritual heart that possesses the wonder. They do not manage to locate it exactly; their own mystery intrigues them. They feel guided, helped, and are provided with support during difficult moments when they did not expect it any more. The solution to their problems is not necessarily the expected one. Life manages beings in accordance with their destiny, even if it is not to their liking. Rising up against it is useless; it is better to accept and benefit from what is offered, wisely.

"Who really knows themselves and what is needed for their reincarnation to be successful! None can claim that they control their own life; trying to make a success of it is no simple matter. May everyone's efforts be rewarded and productive!"
