Life gives you compensations; what you are experiencing through your gifts is not ordinary. Your possibilities and what is offered to us by current technology allows us to make a show of communication. This formula, as it is being implemented, seems to satisfy my son. What would we not do to give him our support, the proof of our love, our listening and our presence by his side, in as many ways as possible?

"He represents us on Earth. Our powers are deposited in him and he judiciously uses them. He feels very much lonely, in spite of the love of our brothers and sisters who are following us on the path. He is everything in their eyes. He is the custodian of the Sahaj Marg tradition. He is the Master who has been invested and powerful in the performance of his duties. He does not really realize the love that he arouses and the place he occupies in the hearts of our abhyasis. Most of them are sincere and moving, each of them having their own perception of his spiritual person. They follow their Master with confidence, faith and exemplary devotion.

"We are happy to note how much the Mission is expanding under his high guidance. It is gaining ground in the hearts; imperceptibly it is shaped for a very long period in time. We will never say how much we are satisfied. May this son feel through these lines, all the strength of our love for him."
