Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, April 28, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Emerge a little from your sadness. Can't you delight in what is taking place? Isn't it more important than everything else?

We know that you are capable of gaining a higher perspective and fully appreciating 'the event'.

You know that you are part of me, so be happy, my child.

My heart is carried away with elation. The path travelled by the Mission goes beyond my hopes, it is immense.

On the Earthly plane, it is a societal phenomenon; for us, it is in the order of things, in the divine order more exactly.

Do you feel the joy winning you over? Read this message to your friends, right away.

It is a carrier, they will feel it.

Meditate, be blessed.

May the best of your being exult.

The Medium: Beloved Babuji, you are my sun!

Do not shy away, write it down.
