Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Saturday, May 10, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Each stage of life is enlightening; your heart has seen windows open to a world which you are discovering with time. Your current life is isolating you, but on the other hand, it makes you look towards infinity. My child, revel in these spiritual joys which form the only real wealth of one's life. Your Master, as well as those whom he venerates, became your reason for living.

"Your joy is there, not only in these contacts which nourish you, but also in your thought which connects to ours when you overcome activities associated with existence here below.

"You have this inner refuge where you come and rejuvenate yourself with delight. What do you see and hear therein, with this vibrant heart of love, calling the Divine? What you feel is precisely beyond your senses, which connect you to this world.

"Here, the 'feelings' are very different; they are made of overwhelming joy, recovered serenity and peace. In this context, external turbulences fade away; they have no more leverage on this loving heart, surrendered and rapt in a movement of fervour that brings oblivion.

"This way of staying aloof from the world to better come back to it gives an incomparable inner strength.

"My child, commune with yourself and pray. Your current special state heightens devotion. It haloes the heart with all the graces attracted by it. May it be blessed, as well as all loving hearts united in the same impetus of love and devotion."
