Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Monday, May 12, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Yes indeed, my child, it seems that we have said everything, and yet we are trying to polish the teaching we gave over the years by adding to it some details which your heart is not wearied of. Those who wish to drink it in in the future will have a large choice and believe well that all these writings will be useful; otherwise what is the point in giving them?

"Humanity must change, it will change. Opening up to spirituality will be its key to salvation. Many will depart from idiocies which they delight in during these troubled times, to refer to other values which will clear their way to a world more in line with them in the new era.

"These remarks can seem utopian: how can humanity move from its current stage to a higher level? To God, nothing is impossible, as they say. This saying will be confirmed in due time.

"Man wants to control and regulate everything. The mighty of this world believe they are the masters, but they are mere human beings terribly limited by their karma to their own history, which will come to an end like all stories, not always finishing well.

"Let us make it clear that it is no easy job to announce good news for the future of this planet, with regard to its evolution. Neither is it a reward promised to children in the hope of making them well behaved. It is a truth, capable of preparing the heart of men likely to understand that the darkness of the world can leave room for a better world, more centred on divine reality."
