Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, June 26, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

You are the one we have chosen. You should get used to it, that is how it is. Aspects that differentiate between my son and you in this material world do not matter; what is important lies elsewhere. These messages are delivered through you, who live in isolation by force of circumstance. This makes our contacts even more productive, which is the good side of the situation.

"We are trying through these writings to convey some truths which will end up convincing our readers. They do not seemingly bring anything new, and yet they are preparing hearts for future struggles. Humanity cannot eternally stagnate. The current way of life, which tends to spread all over the world, is devastating. Human and spiritual values are pushed into the background, behind an unbridled materialism: appearance being the only valid criterion for the greatest number of human beings.

"That escalation is growing and it leads to all sorts of deceptions. Life must be built on different criteria and man may one day learn about it at his own cost. Through a spiritual quest life is given another meaning; it opens one's eyes to the precariousness of life. In this respect, the rich and the poor are subjected to the same laws, that is to the same ordeals and the same struggles, which are not necessarily the same, but they lead to the same reality: the smallness and the frailties of a human being as far as his destiny is concerned."
