Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Wednesday, July 2, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

What can we tell you to comfort you, my child? It is not like you to be so wearied. Are you no longer satisfied with the joy of loving strongly? Search in your heart for that which cannot be found around you. Here, there is no disappointment: peace is immutable and it regenerates the soul. Do not let yourself be overwhelmed by this sadness; you have not yet reached the end of the road. One day, it will continue elsewhere and will open in front of you, full of promise and encounters with loved ones. You will finally find the bliss that you are looking for in vain on Earth, in a place where the encounters of souls are productive, far from the disappointments of the world. After this life another will begin, strengthened by your happy and unhappy experiences. Death is a starting point, as you know. When that day comes, your heart will be ready to face it. Your heart was built in the storm, your boat weathered all winds, but calm follows the storm and can be appreciated all the more.

"Old age is the reflection of one's life, it led you to your present status. You have nothing to regret, and all is well.

"You live in the love of us and it cannot disappoint you; human beings are fickle, unlike us.

"Please summon up your energy again to face up to life; the autumn of your life is rich. Lights, which you cannot imagine, embellish it. Its palette is generous and varied. May this beauty help you colour your days. Maintain it in your heart and endlessly sing the praises of Him to whom you owe it."
