Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Saturday, July 12, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Your life's mate on Earth was a noble soul that very nicely bloomed by your side. He is a rare being, endowed with qualities that he is using in our service. Do not let sadness overwhelm you while remembering this anniversary. You will meet again as he has just told you, my daughter!

"Is it necessary to insist on how fleeting life is? We do not think so, as your minds are now aware of it. Life continues elsewhere, in another form, divested of its Earthly illusory appearances. Abhyasis, particularly in your countries, do not sufficiently admit to this concept. They attach too much importance to the material aspect of life, so transitory and taking up the essence of their time. By starting a spiritual journey in our way, they discover other values, truer and eternal.

"How could they be persuaded to devote the maximum time to their practice? It is not coercive and can be accommodated within a hectic timetable. Television and other diversionary means take up much more time, as far as many of our brothers who concentrate on these entertainments are concerned.

"To them, contemplation is not yet the supreme refuge. By pursuing their quest, with determination, they will finally succeed in connecting with the inner Master, dispenser of graces and initiator of a fruitful progress. May they finally get the best results, under the very high guidance of their living Master."
