Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, July 17, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

The star of Sahaj Marg will grow with time. Its luminosity will enlighten those who are able to identify true values, beyond the concepts of power and domination over the world.

"In no case could spirituality justify violent and destroying actions that would harm the true development of a being.

"The men of the future will be sensitive to the impacts of our system. By refining themselves, they will understand all its subtlety. They will be more insightful and will no longer get lost in approaches that cast doubt on their true nature.

"Furthermore, they will reject institutions that dominate the world by using their long-held power and that manipulate public opinion, as is the case on this planet.

"Nowadays, man is trying to find himself and sometimes gets lost, letting himself be caught in the illusory traps that prevail in whatever relates to alleged spiritual development. The man of tomorrow will be more conscious of his self, and conscious of his real nature, as well as of his potential, which he has yet to develop. He will understand that simplicity can also foster effectiveness and he will consider our way with due clarity.

"Amid the storm which will fall down on the Earth, men will instinctively turn to God, neglected for such a long time as they were lost in a search centred on tangible properties and where fake paradises proved to be destructive.

"May our way keep on growing and become a recourse for hearts calling the divine graces and in search of a way really leading them towards the goal."
