My daughter,

"A kind soul will help you during this difficult time for you. We have no doubt about it. Brotherhood is not really the order of the day in our way, and yet it would be to the humane advantage of our brothers and sisters to practise it. They do not progress alone towards the goal, therefore this aspect should not be neglected: it must not be forgotten.

"Banish this sadness from your heart; let your heart open out under the fiery glow of love. Be confident, surrender, and your life will orient itself in the right direction. Banish also your doubts and keep in these remarks and statements referring to you and which must not be skipped. We are not unaware of the worries that our aspirants are facing. They belong to their way and the changing dynamic and recurrent game of life. Life is the most rigorous school. Rewards can follow ordeals, though the ordeals may be trying. Only God can justify them. Everything evolves, changes and brings new elements that can help everyone see where he stands in relation to the foreseen direction of his reincarnation. Everything is regulated, counted and considered in relation to it. The call of the Divine is the supreme grace that makes him realize his real reason of life. What would this life be worth, without the prospect of an elevation towards Him and a possible realization in Him? He who does not know the delights of being connected to God is unaware of the only voluptuousness, which makes this Earthly existence worth living.

"Our abhyasis are yearning for this fusion; they are making efforts towards that with our support. Their Master doubtless is the best guarantor of their complete success."
