Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, July 31, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Yes, we have repeated ourselves much over these years. Is your heart weary of receiving us? It seems not. Therefore, let us continue for some more time; your Master may wish to give his opinion on this issue.

"We have been dwelling on the behaviour of our brother and sister abhyasis, and the observations of their failings which may curb their evolution. This recommendation is always relevant: all must be done to facilitate spiritual work. Though effective as it is, it is wise at the same time to adhere to some rules of life: tolerance towards others, non-judgement and being strict with oneself. Some solid bases are a good support to a regular practice. We encourage our aspirants to remain vigilant. We want them to get the best and everything must be tried in that respect. It is not easy to iron out some asperities of one's character, however relevant efforts are desirable. The most salient faults poison the life of those concerned, as well as that of their circle. Trying to improve oneself is commendable. Spiritual practice cannot do everything, contrary to the belief of most of our aspirants. It cannot by any means compensate for the striking weaknesses of some of them.

"The Mission is a big family where anyone can express himself, on the condition that one respect some ethics that are essential for the system to function well. It must be an example of union beyond individual differences and make it possible for all our brothers to be perfectly integrated into it."
