We possess the key to your heart; your natural abilities are offered to us and reserved for the most important thing, namely, these contacts. Nothing else can interfere with or pollute the channel; we see to it. Your fears concerning the content of these messages are unfounded. You do not restrict our remarks in any way; they are the reflection of what we inspire in you. Others cannot easily understand what it means to be such a high-level medium, but do not worry – all is well as it is.

My son values these writings; he benefits from them significantly. By reading them, he can feel through them the expression of our love and how much we appreciate his work in the service of our Mission. The more the Mission expands, the more problems he is faced with – problems of a material and spiritual nature concerning the establishment of people in charge who are competent and capable of representing him at all levels. In spite of these administrative preoccupations, shall we say, the Mission is advancing, and it lays its foundations despite everything.

The spiritual work transcends difficulties related to human relationships. It acts and it does not dwell on the reactions of others, which are inevitable and thus, in most cases, of minor importance.

We look high and far ahead for our way, which is gaining ground. Our aspirants do not have a clear understanding of its essence. They see and feel it at face value; they do not realise the work that is being done within them. How could they? They benefit from it by divine grace. Our way is adapted to present times and will be the symbol of future times, which will be highly spiritual.
