Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

e understand your weariness caused by your health. On the other hand, your heart is not weary of serving us; it is led by the love we inspire in it. Continue for a little more time, my child. You like these contacts and their outcome is important, believe me. You are not writing these lines in vain; they carry a rare vibration and they will be appreciated in due time just as they are.

"A deep change is underway on this Earth; it must get rid of its current carapace, hindering its current cycle of evolution. All must change here below. It is a necessity for today's man; tomorrow, it will be too late to think about it. Violently confronted by the elements, he will have to face up to them.

"We constantly come back to this bleak aspect of future events; we cannot do otherwise. We wish each one of our brothers to think about this eventuality and to be twice as vigilant in their work. It is important, in many respects, to be spiritually prepared. This process is redeeming; it reinvigorates the being in the subtlest way and makes it win acclaim, that which we are interested in.

"Our aspirants are the pioneers of a system which will always bear its fruit. It will be recognised for what it really is: an opportunity given to man to move up towards a higher level, liberating him from his current condition. Time will provide it with all its strength and influence. The man of tomorrow will be more capable of grasping the entire scope of its redeeming power, which will keep growing by divine grace."
