Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Sunday, August 24, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

In such moments when your weariness is high, cultivate in yourself, with more fervour, this very rare flower called love. Set out to see it from every possible angle, taking into consideration all its subtlety, and relish it totally. It is the remedy for many evils; nothing can challenge this subtle force when it takes hold of a heart which calls it.

"All great mystics feed on this energy which brings them together beyond their own creeds. It is the unifying aspect, elevating the soul towards heights where only truth prevails, each one of them drinking from the single source and delighting in it.

"Disregard all the rest and commit yourself totally in these moments when your heart is longing for the divine life. Let it have its fill, retrieve its origins and be rejuvenated.

"Isn't this contact with the inexpressible joy sublime? This contact that the soul longs for so intensively that it then takes place! Then, nothing can slow down this need of connection to God; it exists in a latent state in each one, but what attention is paid to it? This nostalgia sometimes seizes the being, very deeply, without being recognised. You should ensure that you do not ignore it, but be able to identify it, to better meet the major needs which justify it.

"You know the way better than anyone; therefore do not miss this ritual that can satisfy your soul. This appeal is growing in you; listen to it, adore and pray, while letting this wave of salvation carry you. You will regain the necessary strength to forge ahead. Courage, my child, we bless you."
