Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Friday, August 29, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Yes, my daughter, we have already gone a long way concerning these messages, which will take on its full meaning with time. They are not written in vain, believe me well. They will be read and appreciated by many of our brothers. They will be among the typical characteristics of our way, full of aspects capable of helping them in their spiritual quest.

"In this particular process, nothing can be neglected. Our aspirants must find with us that which they cannot really find elsewhere. Tomorrow's man will be open to all expressions of the spirit; his views will be broader and more personalised. He will have his own opinion on all these phenomena that are currently beyond human understanding. As his perceptions will be refined, man will be more capable of understanding what currently is not obvious to him.

"In the universe, everything does evolve and change. This planet does not escape the rule, even if its pace is slow. Turning points are cleared, sometimes painfully, according to rules prevailing since the dawn of time.

"A few centuries represent a breath in its existence. The next turning point will be determining for it. Will it access a new dimension? The universal order will decide about it. In its omnipotence, it reorganises the worlds, which must meet certain criteria of evolution within a spirit of cohesion and effectiveness. The Almighty, in His infinite grace, provides for all these things."
