Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Tuesday, September 16, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Start once more to enjoy the struggle; as before, you will overcome this difficult period. Do not lose heart, my child. Struggling is peculiar to man. Which life, though protected it may be, can be free from these characteristics of human nature! Life requires a hard-fought struggle. Everything requires an effort; a spiritual process itself is only possible in this spirit, with perseverance crowning it all.

"Life on Earth offers unique opportunities for experience. All have to be seized and transcended. The most insignificant act can be achieved in a state of mind that would give it a noble meaning. A path can be enriched in many ways. All is grace; all is opportunity for serving, loving, and vibrating in praising the Divine. Nothing should be neglected; the great mystics do not leave anything aside. They showed this by illustrating their stay on this Earth by touching men's hearts in many ways. Many draw their inspiration from these great mystics, trying to copy a certain way of living. Each one can find the suitable wavelength he can be in tune with, the example he can try to follow. The soul manages to find its own way; it is a matter of opportunity. Destiny does strike in due time and in the right place.

"May our way inspire the largest number, thus contributing to the elevation of humanity in the upcoming new era, bringing every possible hope."
