Our meeting point is not the same as the one with the entity of your Master. The conditions are completely different. He is incarnate, and your 'Beloved' is not. Your contacts are more exemplary and will remain one of the specificities of our way. My son manages to express himself beyond his physical body from a higher level of consciousness where his 'true self' can manifest itself differently from what he would do on Earth.

"As was already said, Sahaj Marg will be, in the future, at the heart of a great unifying movement, highly spiritualized. Given the evolution of our brothers, this uniqueness will be very much appreciated. Some advanced beings will communicate normally with high level Masters who would have come to bring them extremely valuable help. All that is still amazing today will become normal.

"Minds must start preparing now for this unprecedented transformation. They cannot move into this new era if they remain set in their limited views and do not want to open up to what is beyond them. Only heart-intelligence is critical in this matter, the importance of diplomas has no bearing on it. The comprehension of these phenomena is not at all restricted to an elite as defined by humans. Our teachings are intended for all and should on no account be restricted to irrelevant considerations. Evolution will take place in spite of resistances and restrictions set by men themselves on this aspect, fearing all that they do not understand. In due time, drastic measures will be resorted to so that humanity can progress. It will therefore be better to not move back."
