Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Tuesday, November 18, 2003 - 8:30 a.m.

All is well, my dear son, be at peace. Your life has followed exactly the right trajectory; the rest is just incidental. Life is a constantly renewing game, whose balance is settled and new rules are laid down. The overall assessment of the Mission is good; it wins the hearts spiritually, and its action is gradually being felt. What else should we ask for, for the moment?

"We are attentive to your steps, you know it. Your constant efforts to serve us are building the present, as well as the future, for which we are grateful to you. Your exile is not useless: your efforts will be rewarded a hundred times over. What more can we tell you today, my dear son, except that a wave of love is flowing into you, the chosen one of our hearts.

"Our souls are very close to each other, as you know. This journey, which weighs on you, will end one day and our souls will be able to sail together towards the infinite, being finally reunited.

"May our very special blessings illuminate your heart, on this day when we can express ourselves to you a bit more concretely through the usual channel."

Babuji