You are getting through an important step; you cannot realize it. You let go deeply. Your surrender must be complete; you do not belong to yourself any more. That could be misconstrued, but you, you know what we mean and you are thankful."

The Medium: "Yes, you can use me, as I often ask you."

"We know it, this is where total confidence leads. You are our front-line soldier. Your eagerness to serve—as per your nature—makes things easier for us. Your service is not limited to the Earth. It will take on its full extent when you have left the Earth. You will be completely available, which your current limitations do not allow. So, rejoice, my daughter, your dearest wish is fulfilled. What you have been requesting for a long time, well before our appearance in your life, is being fulfilled. Be happy, we love you and we do not fear to repeat it to you, we appreciate your way of understanding it. We will not say anything more about it, so you will not feel embarrassed. You should write down everything; do it for us.

"Blessings to you all who are serving us."
