Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

My daughter, you do not have enough hindsight to evaluate the impact these messages will have; the feedback from our 'technicians' involved in the follow-up of this work reassures you. Their sense of analysis is actually relevant. The contents of these writings can be surprising; they are intended for beings who have enough broadmindedness and whose level of evolution allows them to benefit from it spiritually. All is vibration, as we have already said, but it is necessary to go into this notion in greater depth and to further integrate it in our system, as far as teaching is concerned.

"We must now go beyond our usual comments, which our brothers were accustomed to. The new era is neither imaginary nor a fashionable announcement; it will become clearer with time and will require, on our part, a language adapted to the circumstances. The vibrations of these messages, coming from different transmitting sources, complement each other in the interest of the readers' comprehension.

"New times are taking shape; we should not be outdone in our way. Our aspirants are feeding themselves with information emanating from publications intended for non-informed people, but which dwell too much on details of dates and descriptions that boost readers' curiosity without necessarily addressing any objective reality.

"These messages will play their role when the time comes; it is a question of time. We encourage you to continue, my daughter. These messages are not given in vain; they will help men well beyond what you can imagine. Remain confident."
