Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

My daughter, do not dwell on the reactions these messages can cause; they are intended for whoever deserves them. Our comments are not developed according to the reactions the readers may have; they go well beyond picturesque descriptions of an elsewhere that could satisfy human curiosity. A sufficiently refined being feels in himself, in a vibratory way, their potential impact. Let us not forget that tomorrow's man will differ singularly from today's man: his perceptions will be refined, and he will be able to perceive the profound meaning of an apparently insignificant message.

"All is a question of evolution: our aspirants are advancing, but they will have to reach a higher stage to adapt to future times, or at least to their first beginnings. They must forge ahead and should not confine themselves to their small intellectual comfort, as is currently the case for most of them. They must keep up, on pain of regressing, and adapt to a new spirit, leaving aside the old principles that the most educated circles have hitherto agreed upon. Many refer to the new era, but they cling to outdated references.

"They want changes and revelations on the reality of life, but presently they are not able to accept them. Spiritual food must be provided according to the current assimilation capabilities of mankind. We are preparing it in our way, using the language we find appropriate. It is up to them to see, and to adopt or not the principles we state."
