Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, December 4, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

Why not reveal today this well of light, as you call it? Your heart is receptive to our comments. This kind of communication still remains a mystery to many of our brothers; it is time for them to put things in perspective on this issue. Charlatanism exists in this area, like everywhere else. They keep speaking about the new era, reading many publications relating to it, but they remain sceptical about capabilities they do not have.

"Future times will go well beyond what we are doing here. Humans will have to adapt to manifestations much more surprising, before which today's man would recoil. 'Science fiction, yes; reality... not sure': that is a surprising reaction for allegedly open minds. They will actually need to adapt to the upcoming upheavals; our messages are a timid approach compared to a reality that they will not be able to escape.

"This pivotal period in the history of the world will foster awareness about phenomena hitherto misunderstood by the majority of people. Our aspirants, through the work underway in our way, are preparing for this broadmindedness, without which they will be lost when the moment comes to reach a higher stage. For that occasion, not advancing is [synonymous to] limiting oneself, and we would feel sorry for our brothers. Many are following us with confidence; when the time comes, they will adapt themselves, driven by a kind of prescience encouraging them to go ahead in the direction we propose to them. Confidence and surrender are essential more than ever. Our blessings are intended for one and all, according to their abilities to receive them."
