Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Sunday, December 21, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

My dear child, move forward in surrender. Live according to your faith, intensely, basking in the glow of love which carries you and sustains you. Your heart becomes light, happy, surrendered to ours, outside of any reasoning.

"Loving truly entails going beyond aspects that determine the human creature, in its well established and limited structures, in order to merge with the very essence of God by being carried away by this powerful wave. Acquiring this independence of mind provides great strength: it leads the soul towards its higher destiny!

"Being incarnate is an opportunity of evolution for a being in search of the Absolute. The call is felt inside him, without necessarily being heard, since man lets himself be entangled in the swirl of life by neglecting this inner way, which he strives to ignore until the moment when it imposes itself strongly. This scenario is always the same one; although it takes place in all possible ways, the conclusion remains identical.

"Man wanders from life to life, and eventually reaches this conclusion: he must go through the great gate leading him to God. Step by step, he will go into the way of love, going beyond the most sophisticated theories, to eventually stick to the main thing divested of the imaginings of a very active mind, which is harmful to inner peace. The way is long, often painful. Getting out of one's coating of grossness is no small task. God is great; He supports determined souls, helping them to go through the sacred door.

"May all our brothers reach that point; we are helping them towards that."
